

The Arts Alliance of Northern New Hampshire presents

Drawing from the Past: Using Local History Sources to Inspire Learning

*A day-long workshop bringing together teachers, members of local historical societies and interested community members in an interdisciplinary approach to exploring history with COMICS

Wednesday
May 15
9:00-3:00

Pease Public Library
Plymouth, NH

COST: $15 (includes lunch & supplies)

REGISTER AT:

www.aannh.org

No arts experience necessary!

Professional development credit available

PRESENTERS:

- Marek Bennett – NH cartoonist & educator (M.Ed.), teaching artist with AANNH & NHSCA (www.MarekBennett.com)
- Sophia Woodley – Historian (DPhil, Oxford University), educator & AANNH board member

QUESTIONS: info@aannh.org
(603)-323-7302

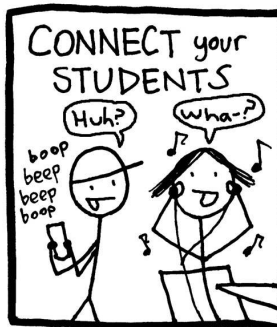

Made possible by the generous support of the NH Humanities Council (www.nhhc.org)

FOR HISTORICAL SOCIETIES:

FOR TEACHERS:

Artwork from: www.LiveFreeAndDraw.com

TOPICS INCLUDE:

- The history and key techniques of sequential art (comics)
- Illustrating local history by synthesizing and interpreting primary sources
- Designing rigorous, engaging comics-based history lessons & units aligned with Common Core Curriculum standards
- Using artwork to bring local history to wider audiences

SUGGESTIONS FOR PARTICIPANTS:

- If possible, bring primary sources from your local historical society, or that you use for teaching. Pick documents that tell a story and particularly speak to you (for example, a diary, letter, image, etc.)
- We encourage you to attend as a community team if possible (e.g. teachers of different subjects, history enthusiasts, artists, etc.)

